Office of the Lieutenant Governor

September, 2006

Dear Fellow Utahn:

This year, Utah embraces a new era of voting as we begin using a statewide electronic voting solution that complies with the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA). The changes mandated under HAVA, as well as the new ability to vote early will make your participation in the democratic process more simple and more secure than ever before in Utah.

I hope that you use this Voter Information Pamphlet as a reference tool to become better informed about the candidates and issues you will be voting on in November and where to go to learn more about both. In addition, you will find instructions for using Utah's new electronic voting machines and details about Early Voting.

Thank you for taking the time to read through this pamphlet. If you have any questions at all about the upcoming elections, please do not hesitate to visit my website at <http://www.LeaveYourPrint.com>, call my office at 1.800.995.VOTE (8683) or contact me via email at gherbert@utah.gov.

Despite changes to the manner in which we vote this year, your participation in the process remains critical to the success of our democratic republic. I encourage you to either find an Early Voting location or visit your local polling place on Election Day. After all, it's your voice that needs to be heard, so speak out and leave your print on Utah.

Sincerely,

Gary R. Herbert
Lieutenant Governor

U.S. SENATE

Pete Ashdown
DEMOCRAT

"For the first time in the history of human democracy, we have the opportunity to make our government truly representative. Pete Ashdown is uniquely suited to make this opportunity a reality. Through the use of modern communication and collaborative technologies, the public can have a voice equal to paid lobbyists who see our elected officials every day. Unfortunately, the majority of our federal representation not only lacks the ability to implement these changes, but the will to do so as well. They retain office through a system which depends on keeping the general public uninformed and cynical towards politics. Enabling the American voice to focus on our toughest problems will eliminate apathy towards our government. Implementing transparency in our representation will ensure that American public interest comes before private. This change will start by electing Pete Ashdown."

CONSTITUTION

"Scott Bradley, United States Senate Candidate, is a university Administrator, and holds a Bachelor of Science from Westminster College and a Masters of Public Administration from BYU. He is Founder and Chairman of The Constitution Commemoration Foundation, Inc., an organization which fosters increased understanding of the U.S. Constitution "in the tradition of the Founding Fathers," and also encourages a return to the original intent of proper government as understood and practiced at the time of America's founding. He seeks a return to the foundation principles upon which this nation was established, with government constrained to act only within the framework defined within the Constitution, in protection of our individual God-given unalienable rights."

Make your vote count by sending a clear message to both major political parties that we are unhappy with political bickering, special interest lobbying, and poor leadership. I will work on behalf of all citizens of Utah and with either party to insure that the best decisions are made based on solid information."

From developing our state's resources to meet our growing energy needs, improving our transportation system to meet our expanding population, and continuing the fight against those who would make Utah a dumping ground for spent nuclear fuel, I pledge to continue to use my experience, my leadership and my vision for the future to meet these and other challenges we face. Roger I. Price
PERSONAL CHOICE

“Current events littered with contention, hatred and violence are basically due to forgetting our ideals of Liberty, Equality and Justice. Our Constitution created a Republic, not a democracy. Our founders understood the vast difference. Our Republic is to be ruled by just laws that provide equal protection for every individual’s unalienable Rights. To reach the goals that “We the people of the United States” set for ourselves in the Preamble to the Constitution, we must each lead by example, not drive by force. We must respect each other as equals and we must cooperate without pride or prejudice.”

“Qualifications: Emergency operations manager and CERT trainer, because disasters show the need for more voluntarism. Fire-arms instructor, because the right to keep and bear arms is to protect against criminals and tyrants. Husband, father, grandfather, because love sets you free and children motivate us to leave them a world of liberty.

Respect for individual rights is essential for a free and prosperous world, aggression and fraud must be banished from human relationships, and only through freedom can we achieve peace and prosperity.

No conflict exists between individual liberty and spontaneous order.

The bipartisan, welfare/warfare bureaucracy is revolting; why aren't you?”

LIBERTARIAN

Haven't you had enough of political thugs like Rob Bishop?

Republicans and Democrats promise fiscal restraint, while increasing federal spending and steering government contracts to cronies.

U.S. foreign policy should resemble Swiss-like neutrality.

U.S. soldiers should defend Americans in America. Bring them home.

Government regulations are aggression. Whose life is it? Yours? Or some bureaucrat's?

REPUBLICAN

"Rob Bishop has consistently defended Utah's interests. As Utah House Speaker, Rob promoted a conservative agenda. As a teacher for 28 years, Rob knows about education and making a difference in people's lives.

In Congress, Rob has strengthened our national security, defended our military installations, cut taxes, and looked after our public lands. His assignment on the powerful House Rules Committee is valuable to the state on issues important to Utahns.

Born in Kaysville, Rob Bishop attended Davis High and the University of Utah, and served a mission for his church. He and his wife, Jeralynn, have five children."

DEMOCRAT

"I'm a life-long Utah resident that cares deeply about the values our state holds dear. Among the issues we're discussing this year, a few stand out. I hope to convince Utahns that the moderate, fiscally conservative Utah Democratic Party more closely represents Utah values than the borrow-and-spend, special-interest controlled GOP that has abandoned the principles of President Reagan. I pledge to fight to wrest control of our government from the hands of the special interest lobbyists, and represent people, not parties. - Protect the Earth

Bob Brister has over 25 years experience as staff for public interest non-profit organizations working for peace, social justice, and public lands conservation, most recently with the Southern Utah Wilderness Alliance. He lives in Salt Lake City near Liberty Park.

We need principled and effective representation in Congress—true leaders who make a positive difference in Washington, protect our freedom and our heritage and keep heavy taxes and government regulation from stifling the incentive to work and save. The party of Carter and Clinton has a much different agenda for America than that of Reagan and Bush. The Republican difference is key in this election. I ask for your vote."

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER

Resolution Regarding Property Tax On Personal Property

Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to authorize the Legislature to pass a law creating a property tax exemption for tangible personal property that generates an inconsequential amount of revenue?

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Constitutional Amendment Number 1 amends a section of the Utah Constitution that addresses property tax exemptions. The Amendment authorizes the Legislature to create a property tax exemption for tangible personal property that generates an inconsequential amount of tax revenue.

Background and current provisions of the Utah Constitution

Under the current Utah Constitution, if the state or a local government imposes a property tax, all tangible property is required to be taxed. Tangible property includes both tangible real property, such as land and buildings, and tangible personal property, such as furniture, machinery, and equipment. Constitutional Amendment Number 1 deals only with tangible personal property.

Although the Constitution requires all tangible property to be taxed, the Constitution also provides for some tangible property to be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide for some exemptions in statute. However, the Legislature does not have authority to provide in statute an exemption that is not authorized by the Constitution.

Most tangible personal property owned by individual taxpayers is exempt from taxation because of a household furnishings exemption allowed under the Constitution. However, similar property owned by business taxpayers is not exempt. Regardless of how much or how little tangible personal property a business taxpayer owns, the taxpayer is required under the current Utah Constitution to pay property tax on that property. In addition, some types of tangible personal property owned by some individual taxpayers is not covered by the household furnishings exemption and is therefore subject to property tax. For a business or individual taxpayer with little tangible personal property, the burden of complying with tax requirements may be disproportionate to the amount of tax paid. Furthermore, the small amount of tax collected from a taxpayer with little tangible personal property does not always cover the government's cost of collecting it.

Under the current Utah Constitution, the Legislature cannot provide an exemption for tangible personal property that generates an insignificantly small amount of revenue in proportion to the taxpayer's burden and the government's costs of collecting the tax.

The effect of Constitutional Amendment Number 1

Constitutional Amendment Number 1 authorizes the Legislature to create by statute a property tax exemption for tangible personal property that generates an inconsequential amount of revenue. The Amendment does not require the exemption but authorizes the Legislature to establish the exemption in statute. The Amendment does not define what constitutes an inconsequential amount of revenue.

Effective date

If approved by voters, Constitutional Amendment Number 1 takes effect January 1, 2007.

Statutory provisions effective on passage of Constitutional Amendment Number 1

If Constitutional Amendment Number 1 passes, H.B. 338, Property Tax Exemption for Business Personal Property, 2006 General Session, will become law on January 1, 2007. This bill provides an exemption for a taxpayer's tangible personal property if the property has a total combined fair market value of $3,500 or less. Under H.B. 338, if the value of all of a business or individual taxpayer's tangible personal property is $3,500 or less, the taxpayer would not be required to pay tax on that property. After 2007, the $3,500 amount is annually adjusted for inflation.

Fiscal impact

Constitutional Amendment Number 1 by itself has no fiscal impact. The Amendment does not create a property tax exemption that would have a fiscal impact. Instead, the Amendment authorizes the Legislature to create an exemption. H.B. 338, passed by the Legislature and effective only if this Amendment passes, creates an exemption as authorized by the Amendment.

Under H.B. 338, taxpayers who otherwise would have been required to pay tax on their tangible personal property will not be required to pay tax if the value of all their tangible personal property is $3,500 or less. This exemption for those taxpayers will result in a slight shift of the property tax burden to all other property taxpayers. The reason for the shift is that under state law the total amount of property tax collected by a county, city, or other taxing entity remains roughly constant from year to year. So if the total amount of property tax collected by an entity drops because property that was previously taxed is no longer taxed, all other taxpayers will pay more so that the total amount collected by the taxing entity does not change. The current annual amount of the shift that will occur under H.B. 338 is estimated to be about $1.06 million statewide. That amount is less than one-tenth of one percent of the approximately $1.6 billion in annual property taxes currently collected statewide, or about 67 cents for every $1,000 in property taxes.

FOR

ARGUMENT FOR:

Vote YES on Constitutional Amendment Number 1, which will allow the Legislature to simplify the personal property tax system for Utah's small businesses.

Constitutional Amendment Number 1 will permit more common sense requirements to simplify the compliance burden both for the taxpayer, Utah's small businesses, the tax collector, and the county government. For example, Constitutional Amendment Number 1 would let the Legislature exempt businesses for which the collection costs are greater than the tax revenues paid. By allowing our small businesses and entrepreneurs to focus on business, rather than burdening them with bureaucratic busywork, we strengthen our businesses and our economy.

Constitutional Amendment Number 1 was passed overwhelmingly in the Utah House of Representatives by a vote of 73 to 0 and in the Utah Senate by a vote of 22 to 1. This legislative backing is complemented by similar support from the Utah Constitutional Revision Commission, the Utah League of Cities and Towns, the Utah Association of Counties, the National Federation of Independent Business, the Utah Technology Council, the Utah Taxpayers Association, and Chambers of Commerce throughout Utah.

For strong small businesses, a vibrant Utah economy and simplified, meaningful property tax reform, vote YES on Constitutional Amendment Number 1.

INFORMATION ABOUT JUDGES APPEARING ON YOUR BALLOT

Merit Selection of Judges

The office of judge is unique in our society. A judge is a public servant holding an office of high public trust and so should answer to the public. However, the obligation of a judge is to resolve disputes impartially and to base decisions solely upon the facts of the case and the law. A judge, therefore, should be insulated from public pressure.

Merit selection of judges was developed as an alternative to requiring judges to run in contested elections. The Judicial Article of the Utah Constitution, revised effective July 1, 1985, establishes merit selection as the exclusive method of choosing a state court judge. As stated in the Utah Constitution: "Selection of judges shall be based solely upon consideration of fitness for office without regard to any partisan political consideration."

There are four steps in the Utah merit selection plan: nomination, appointment, confirmation and retention election. The nomination of judges is by a committee of lawyers and non-lawyers selected by the Governor. The judicial nominating commission nominates between three and seven of the best qualified candidates from among all applicants. The Governor appoints one of the nominees, who then must be confirmed by a majority of the Utah State Senate.

Judicial Retention Elections

Under the Utah Constitution, judges must stand for retention election at the end of each term of office. The public has the opportunity to vote whether to retain the judge for another term. Before a judge stands for retention election, he or she is evaluated by the Judicial Council. The Judicial Council is established by the Utah Constitution as the policy making body for the judicial branch of government and is required by its own rules and by statute to evaluate the performance of all judges. As a result of the evaluation, the Judicial Council certifies whether the judge is qualified for retention election. The results of individual evaluations are published in the voter information pamphlet.

Performance Evaluation Program

The judicial performance evaluation program is required by statute and developed by rule of the Judicial Council. The purpose of the program is two-fold:

To provide each judge with information for his or her self improvement; and

To provide the public with information upon which to make knowledgeable decisions regarding retention election.

The evaluation of each judge's performance is conducted every two to four years depending on when the judge is standing for retention election. An independent surveyor conducts a poll of lawyers appearing before each judge and asks the lawyer to anonymously evaluate the judge based on several criteria. In addition, a similar survey of jurors is conducted for district court judges and other judges sitting temporarily in the district court. Prior to the close of a judge's term of office, the Judicial Council reviews the results of the attorney and juror polls and other standards of performance and determines whether the judge is qualified for retention.

A minimum score of 70% on at least 75% of the questions on the juror survey.

Voting for candidates of one party

If you want to cast a "straight party" vote for all the candidates of one party, touch the box next to that party on the first page of the ballot. The box next to that party's candidates will be automatically marked on the other pages of the ballot.

You may change your vote in a particular race to the candidate from another party or to a write-in candidate. To make the change, first touch the box next to the "straight party" candidate. The X will disappear. Then, touch the box next to the candidate for whom you wish to vote. An X will appear in the box.

Judges, school board candidates and ballot questions are non-partisan. When you mark a "straight party" vote, these races are not automatically marked. You may vote in each of these races by touching the box next to your choice.

If you did not cast a "straight party" vote on the first page of the ballot, you will see the "straight party" selection highlighted on the summary page. If you return to this selection and mark a party, your previously marked votes will not change. However, in any partisan races where you have not already marked a candidate, the candidate of the party you chose will be automatically marked.

Constitutional Amendments and Initiatives

Constitutional amendments and initiatives appear on the ballot in the form of a question. A vote "FOR" an amendment to initiative means that you want to answer "yes" to the question. A vote "AGAINST" an amendment or initiative means that you want to answer "no" to the question. To vote on constitutional amendments or initiatives, read the ballot title provided on the ballot, decide whether you are "FOR" or "AGAINST" the amendment or initiative, and touch the box next to your choice.

How to get help marking your ballot

The voting machines have several features to help voters who are blind, have a disability or cannot read or write English. These features include large text, high contrast display, and audio recordings. However, voters may still ask someone of their choice to help mark their ballots. The person helping must not be a candidate, the voter's employer, an agent of the voter's employer, nor an officer or agent of the voter's union. The person helping cannot in any way request, persuade, or induce the voter to vote for or against any particular candidate or issue.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

San Juan County

How to obtain a ballot for voting

1. Give your name and address to an election judge. You may also be required to show proof of identification or proof of residency.

2. If your name is on the official register and your right to vote has not been challenged, the election judge will give you one or more ballots.

NOTE: If an election judge has reason to doubt your identity, the judge is required either (a) to request identification from you, or (b) to have a known registered voter of the district identify you.

How to mark your ballot

Mark your ballot only with the marker provided by the election judge. If you use any other type of pen or pencil, your vote may not be counted by the optical scanner.

Completely fill in the oval next to the party or candidate of your choice. If an oval is not completely filled in, your vote may not be counted by the optical scanner.

Ballots may be printed on both the front and back. Do not forget to vote on issues that are listed on the reverse side of the ballot.

DO NOT vote on a ballot that has been previously marked, spoiled or defaced. Identification marks or a spoiled or defaced ballot will make your vote invalid. If you make a mistake, do not attempt to erase a mark. Instead, return your ballot to the election judge who will cancel the ballot and issue you a new ballot.

Voting for candidates of one party

If you want to cast a "straight party" vote for all the candidates of one party, fill in the oval next to the party symbol at the top of the list of that party's candidates. You may also fill in the ovals next to each candidate's name, but this is not necessary if you filled in the oval next to the party symbol.

Voting for candidates of more than one party

If you want to vote for candidates from more than one party, fill in the oval by the names of the candidates for whom you want to vote. If you have already voted "straight party" and then decide to vote for a candidate from another party, simply mark the oval next to the other candidate(s) of your choice. The optical scanner will interpret a "straight party" vote as a vote for all candidates of that party except where you filled in an oval for candidate(s) of a different party.

Write-in voting

You may also vote for a valid write-in candidate. Do this by legibly writing the name of the write-in candidate in the space provided on the ballot or by placing in that space a sticker containing the office and write-in candidate's name. You must also fill in the oval next to the write-in candidate's name.

Non-partisan candidates Judicial, State School Board, Local School Board, and similar offices are non-partisan contests. They are located either in the right column or on the reverse side of the ballot. The ballot contains instructions designating the number of candidates that should be voted for each office.

Constitutional Amendments and Initiatives

Constitutional amendments and initiatives appear on the ballot in the form of a question.

A vote "FOR" an amendment on initiative means that you want to answer "yes" to the question. A vote "AGAINST" an amendment or initiative means that you want to answer "no" to the question. To vote on constitutional amendments and initiatives, read the ballot title provided on the ballot, decide whether you are "FOR" or "AGAINST" the amendment or initiative, and fill in the oval for the appropriate response.

How to get help marking your ballot

Voters who are blind, have a disability, or are unable to read or write English, may be helped by someone of their choice. The person helping must not be a candidate, the voter's employer, an agent of the voter's employer, nor an officer or agent of the voter's union. The person helping cannot in any way request, persuade, or induce the voter to vote for or against any particular candidate or issue.

Provisional ballots also allow people who register through a Driver's License Agency or other public agency and whose name does not appear on the Official Register (for whatever reason) to vote at their new polling location.
