Sam F. Granato
DEMOCRATIC

Throughout his more than 20 years of public service, Sam has proven he can bring people together to find sensible solutions. Sam has the experience and integrity needed to serve the people of Utah.

Like many of you, I am frustrated with career politicians who have stood by while the American economy has been recklessly driven off a cliff. The way forward is through innovation, hard work, and frugality. Let's get America working again!

As I have served in the political process for the past few years, I have fought and defeated tax increases. America became the greatest nation in the world because of the governing principles established in our Constitution. The two major parties continue to ignore these principles. Jared Paul Stratton
LIBERTARIAN

Congress has no shortage of anger and partisanship but they are lacking what we need right now are good solutions. And we cannot expect any different from them if we don't start voting differently.

There are choices beyond picking a side and making an all-or-nothing gamble with our rights, solutions that don't dictate what is right but instead preserve liberty, uphold justice, and let us choose our values. We need a voice that favors reason over rhetoric and represents all voters in our district.

The first solution I already have for you--vote Jared Paul Stratton.
Thank you.

I have no large donors; big money never will have my ear. If you want to elect someone different, to speak for you against the status quo; I am your guy. If not, check the R or D and live with 2 years of broken promises.

Jim Matheson
DEMOCRATIC

Congressman Jim Matheson is a sixth-generation Utahn. Before his election to Congress in November 2000, Jim worked in the energy business for 13 years. Matheson's approach as a Congressman has been to put Utah first, ahead of politics or partisanship.

The initiatives he has pursued, such as removing radioactive waste adjacent to the Colorado River, preventing the resumption of nuclear weapons testing, and providing full education benefits to returning Utah Guard and Reservists came from listening to Utahns. Other priorities include banning the importation of radioactive waste from foreign countries and promoting job growth and investment in retraining and education.

Stated he will "certainly oppose any efforts to repeal the [Obama-Pelosi healthcare] law," and

REPUBLICAN

We have to change the way we do business in Washington, DC. The federal government is completely out of control. Massive spending, soaring deficits and crippling taxes are putting our country in serious jeopardy. I have always maintained that the best hope for Utah - and the United States of America - is to return to the core principles of fiscal discipline, limited government, accountability and a strong national defense.

I was elected to fight for conservative principles, and that's exactly what I've done. Big government is on the attack, and we need to fight back.

W. Andrew McCullough
GOVERNOR
LIBERTARIAN

As Governor, I will work for smaller government, lower taxes and more freedom in the functions of all government agencies. Utah suffers from diminished tax collections. We must make do with less.

I envision fewer children taken from their families, fewer people going to jail for possession of drugs, less censorship and less misuse of government power. Utah needs more freedom, and fewer "message bills".

I am an attorney with a practice concentrating on individual freedom issues. I know what needs to be done, and I can make a difference.

We need a real change.

LT. GOVERNOR
LIBERTARIAN

I took the oath to support, obey and defend the Utah and U.S. constitutions more than two decades ago, and since then have championed Utahns' dignity, rights, progress, and liberties.

The Lieutenant Governor supervises elections. I advocate opening electoral processes to all Utahns; replacing the two-party system protecting the incumbent political cartel from meaningful competition with spoiler-free ranked choice voting and gerrymander-proof proportional representation. These reforms have improved voter engagement and elected official accountability where adopted in America's cities.

Study alternatives to the false choices presented to you by the establishment media. Please vote with courage, integrity, and your conscience.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT A

JOINT RESOLUTION REGARDING SECRET BALLOT

2009 GENERAL SESSION

SENATE: 21-8-0

HOUSE: 53-22-0

BALLOT TITLE

☐ FOR

☐ AGAINST

Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to specify that elections currently required to be by secret ballot include elections under state or federal law for public office, on an initiative or referendum, or to designate or authorize employee or individual representation?

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Current provisions of the Utah Constitution

The Utah Constitution currently requires all elections to be by secret ballot. That requirement probably already applies to elections to select public officers and elections under state law on initiatives or referenda. However, because the scope of the requirement that "all elections" be by secret ballot is not defined in case law, it is unclear exactly which elections are included within the scope of the requirement.

Effect of Constitutional Amendment A

Constitutional Amendment A modifies the scope of the secret ballot requirement. Unless preempted by federal law, the Amendment requires specific types of elections to be by secret ballot.

The Amendment specifies that elections required to be held by secret ballot include elections under state or federal law for public office, on an initiative or referendum, or to designate or authorize employee or individual representation. An election to designate or authorize employee representation would probably include an election to determine whether or not to form a union or to determine union representation.

Effective Date

If approved by voters, Constitutional Amendment A takes effect January 1, 2011.

Fiscal Impact

Constitutional Amendment A will have no direct, measurable impact on state or local government costs or revenues.

ARGUMENT FOR

The secret ballot is a voting method in which your voting choices are confidential. The key aim is to ensure you can cast your vote free from intimidation or bribery.

America first used secret ballots to protect the rights of recently freed slaves after the Civil War. Voter intimidation during southern reconstruction was rampant; African American first-time voters being threatened with physical violence, even lynching, based on how they cast their publicly known ballots.

The secret ballot guarantees that your private opinion counts, not the person peering into your private voting booth. Open ballots are not truly free for people who disagree with the powerful.

From the lynching of freed American slaves who dared to vote, to the purple-stained thumbs of voters in newly freed countries, the right to a secret ballot has been won through the spilled blood of freedom-loving patriots. It is the hallmark of a free society that must never be abridged.

Unfortunately the secret ballot is under attack right here in America. President Barack Obama and big labor union bosses are on the verge of passing legislation called the "Employee Free Choice Act," also known as "card check: If they succeed, card check will deny employees the right to cast a secret ballot in union organizing elections.

Rather than holding a monitored workplace election using secret ballots (as has been the case for decades) under Big Labor's card check proposal the union would automatically be created in businesses (with more than ten employees) once the union collects "authorization cards" signed by a majority of the employees. Importantly, under card check, employees wouldn't be able to sign an authorization card privately. Friends, co-workers and union bosses would know exactly who has signed and who hasn't, and could use pressure and intimidation to coerce hold-outs to sign an authorization card.

No questions. No debate. No secret ballot. You're unionized.

The right to vote in private, free from coercion or intimidation, is one of the pillars of our nation and transcends partisanship.

This amendment to the Utah Constitution is simple and straight forward. It simply says that all elections, including elections for employee representation, shall be by secret ballot. By locking this right of secret ballots into the Utah Constitution, Utah will have taken strong and decisive action to guarantee that your right to a secret ballot shall not be infringed. Utah voters cast their votes free from fear of retribution from their government. You deserve the same right to be free of fear of retaliation from their union, their employer and their fellow employees.

If we do not stand up for the secret ballot today, what rights will we be fighting to hold onto tomorrow?

Vote FOR Constitutional Amendment A.

- Representative Carl Wimmer

- Senator Howard Stephenson

ARGUMENT AGAINST

Utah's Founding Fathers carefully crafted the Utah Constitution. We believe they got it right the first time. Amending our state Constitution should be undertaken cautiously and only when absolutely necessary and after sound deliberation. It should not be amended cavalierly or for cynical political purposes.

Since its ratification in 1896 the Utah Constitution has guaranteed that "All elections shall be by secret ballot." Amendment A attempts to change the guarantee of election by secret ballot. There is no good reason to meddle with this established tradition now.

Amendment A is a classic example of a solution in search of a problem. The proponents of Amendment A argue that this proposed amendment is necessary to guarantee that our elections are conducted by secret ballot. This is simply not true and ignores the fact that the Utah Constitution as drafted by our state Founding Fathers included in Article IV, Section 8 the guarantee that "All elections shall be by secret ballot." This simple and unambiguous rule has been the law of our land for more than a century. There is no doubt that our elections are conducted by secret ballot. Our secret ballot does not need saving. This right is secure under our current Constitution. In other words, if it isn't broken, don't fix it.

Sadly, Amendment A is nothing more than a "message" bill, imported to Utah from out-of-state. Amendment A is a misguided and cynical attempt to nullify a legislative proposal pending in Congress that seeks to modernize and reform one aspect of our labor laws. Amendment A's proponents will suggest that the Employee Free Choice Act will do away with elections by secret ballot, but this is nonsense. In reality, Amendment A's proponents know that federal law will likely supersede this proposed amendment but they are more interested in using our Constitution to provoke a costly lawsuit than in maintaining the sanctity and integrity of the Utah Constitution. We should not let outsiders manipulate us and our state Constitution for their own political agenda.

Amendment A is also flawed in that the Utah Constitutional Revision Commission ("CRC") did not approve the amendment and Amendment A was rushed through the Utah Legislature without proper debate and deliberation. The CRC is the bipartisan body composed of citizens and legislators that is tasked with the responsibility of carefully studying and reviewing proposed constitutional amendments to ensure they are necessary and sound. The CRC was only given half an hour to review Amendment A and ultimately did not approve the amendment. In addition, Amendment A was not considered by the Utah Senate under the regular rules for debating and voting. Instead, Amendment A was rushed through after the rules were suspended. Amendment A was not given the appropriate deliberation and consideration that should be given to a proposal to amend our most important governing document. The Utah Constitution deserves a better process and more consideration.

We should all vote NO on Amendment A.

- Representative David Litvack
Minority Leader, Utah House of Representatives

- Senator Ben McAdams
Senator, Utah State Senate

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT B

RESOLUTION REGARDING ELIGIBILITY FOR LEGISLATIVE OFFICE

2009 GENERAL SESSION

SENATE: 28-0-1

HOUSE: 72-0-3

BALLOT TITLE

☐ FOR

☐ AGAINST

Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to:

- specify the residency requirements for a person appointed to fill a vacancy in the office of state senator or state representative; and
- prohibit a person appointed to the office of state senator or state representative from continuing to serve in that office if the person ceases to be a resident of the district for which the person was appointed?

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Constitutional Amendment B modifies a provision of the Utah Constitution regarding eligibility requirements for the office of state senator or state representative. The Amendment requires a person appointed to fill a mid-term vacancy in one of those offices to be a resident of the state for three consecutive years immediately before appointment and a resident of the legislative district for six consecutive months immediately before appointment.

The Amendment also prohibits a person appointed to fill a vacancy in a legislative office from continuing to serve in office after ceasing to be a resident of the district for which the person was appointed.

Current provisions of the Utah Constitution

The Utah Constitution currently states that a person is not eligible for the office of state senator or representative unless the person meets certain requirements, including residency requirements. The residency requirements are that a person must be a resident of the state for three consecutive years immediately before the deadline for filing for office and a resident of the district from which the person is elected for six consecutive months immediately before the filing deadline. The requirement to be a resident of the state for three years is phrased in terms that may apply to both a person who is elected to office and a person who is appointed to fill a mid-term vacancy. The requirement to be a resident of the legislative district for six months is phrased in terms that apply only to a person who is elected to office.

The Utah Constitution also prohibits a person who is elected to a legislative office from continuing to serve in that office after ceasing to be a resident of the district from which the person was elected. This provision is phrased in terms that apply only to a person who is elected to office and not to a person who is appointed to fill a mid-term vacancy.

Effect of Constitutional Amendment B

Constitutional Amendment B specifically addresses residency requirements for a person who is appointed to fill a mid-term vacancy in a legislative office. The Amendment requires a person appointed to fill a vacancy to be a resident of the state for three consecutive years immediately before the person's appointment and a resident of the legislative district for six consecutive months immediately before the person's appointment.

The Amendment also prohibits a person appointed to fill a vacant legislative office from continuing to serve in that office if the person ceases to be a resident of the district for which the person was appointed.

Effective Date

If approved by voters, Constitutional Amendment B takes effect January 1, 2011.

Fiscal Impact

Constitutional Amendment B will have no direct, measurable impact on state or local government costs or revenues.

ARGUMENT FOR

Amendment “B” is designed to apply the same eligibility requirements, whether a person is elected or appointed to serve in a legislative office.

The current constitutional provision applies only to persons who are elected to the legislature. A person seeking election must meet two residency requirements. First, the person must have been a resident of Utah for at least three consecutive years immediately before the deadline for filing a declaration of candidacy. Second, also immediately before that deadline, the person must have been a resident of the legislative district for at least six consecutive months.

Amendment “B” simply imposes the same residency requirements on persons appointed to fill the unexpired term of a legislator who leaves office in mid-term. However, the crucial date is the date of appointment rather than the date of filing for election. A person appointed to fill a vacancy must have been a resident of Utah for at least three consecutive years immediately prior to the date of appointment. The person must also have been a resident of the legislative district that will be represented for at least six consecutive months immediately prior to the date of appointment.

Amendment “B” goes on to clarify that the continuing residency requirement within the district applies not only to a person elected but also to a person appointed. In either case, if a legislator ceases to reside in the legislative district, the eligibility to represent that district also ends.

CITIZENS SHOULD VOTE YES FOR THIS AMENDMENT. It is a common sense clarification required to make certain that state representatives and state senators live among the people whom they represent. The Utah Constitutional Revision Commission favorably recommended this amendment and adoption of this amendment was unanimously endorsed by both the Utah House of Representatives and the Utah State Senate.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT C

RESOLUTION ON PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTION FOR WATER FACILITIES

2010 GENERAL SESSION

SENATE: 24-0-5

HOUSE: 70-0-5

BALLOT TITLE

☐ FOR

☐ AGAINST

Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to provide a property tax exemption to nonprofit entities for their:

- water rights and specified facilities used within the state to irrigate land, provide domestic water, or provide water to a public water supplier; and
- land occupied by and, under certain conditions, immediately adjacent to some of those facilities?

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Constitutional Amendment C provides a property tax exemption for certain property owned by nonprofit entities if the property is used to irrigate land, provide domestic water, or provide water to a public water supplier. It also provides an exemption for land occupied by or adjacent to some of that exempt property, under certain circumstances.

Current provisions of the Utah Constitution

The Utah Constitution currently provides a property tax exemption for all government owned and some privately owned water rights and facilities used to produce, treat, store, and distribute water in the state. Privately owned water rights and facilities are exempt only if the owner of the water rights and facilities uses them to irrigate the owner's own land within the state. The Utah Constitution does not presently provide a property tax exemption for privately owned water rights and facilities used to provide water for purposes other than the irrigation of land owned by the owner of the water rights and facilities.

Effect of Constitutional Amendment C

Constitutional Amendment C makes water rights and certain facilities owned by nonprofit entities exempt from property taxes if the water rights and facilities are used within the state to irrigate land, provide domestic water, or provide water to a public water supplier. Under a bill that becomes effective if Constitutional Amendment C is approved by voters, domestic water is defined as water used for a residential or commercial use, including the outdoor watering of vegetation.

Constitutional Amendment C also provides an exemption for land that is occupied by an exempt reservoir, ditch, canal, or pipe if that land is owned by the same nonprofit entity that owns the reservoir, ditch, canal, or pipe. The Amendment also makes land exempt from property taxes if the land: is adjacent to an exempt reservoir, ditch, canal, or pipe; is owned by the same nonprofit entity that owns the reservoir, ditch, canal, or pipe; and is reasonably necessary for the maintenance of the reservoir, ditch, canal, or pipe or is reasonably necessary for supporting their operation.

Effective date

If approved by voters, Constitutional Amendment C takes effect January 1, 2011.

Fiscal impact

Constitutional Amendment C will reduce the property tax liability of certain water-providing nonprofit entities by an estimated cumulative amount of $400,000 per year. These tax savings could potentially translate into a cost saving for local water authorities that use water provided by the nonprofit entities. The reduction of the nonprofit entities' tax liability will not decrease local government revenue because the $400,000 tax burden will shift from the nonprofit entities to other taxpayers. The Amendment will have no direct, measurable impact on state government costs or revenues.

ARGUMENT FOR

Water is Utah's most important and precious public resource. The framers of our Utah Constitution appropriately exempted from property tax, the physical facilities needed to capture, store, treat and deliver water to cities, special districts, and farmers. The drafters of our Constitution correctly reasoned that an additional tax on these water facilities would only hinder the orderly development of Utah.

Recently the question has arisen regarding the taxation of water facilities of non-profit water companies that deliver culinary and irrigation water to their members. Many of these companies have been in existence for over a hundred years and are the only source of drinking water in their community.

Constitutional Amendment C exempts water facilities of non-profit companies from property tax. This exemption is appropriate and fair for two reasons. First, nearly all similar water facilities are already exempt from property taxes. Second, those served by non-profit water companies already pay property taxes on the increased value of their property due to the availability of the water service provided by the non-profit water company. Without this exemption the members of these non-profit companies are subject to unfair double taxation that other culinary, domestic and agricultural users are not subject to.

This proposed amendment had six public hearings before being unanimously passed by both the Utah House and Senate. The Constitutional Revision Commission, the State Water Development Commission, and the Executive Water Task Force all voted unanimously to support this fair and equitable change to our Constitution.

We encourage you to vote For Constitutional Amendment C.

Respectfully,
-Representative Patrick Painter
House Chairman, State Water Development Commission
-Steve Urquhart
State Senator, District 29

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT D

RESOLUTION ON LEGISLATIVE ETHICS COMMISSION

2010 GENERAL SESSION

SENATE: 25-4-0

HOUSE: 70-3-2

BALLOT TITLE

☐ FOR

☐ AGAINST

Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to:

- establish a five-member legislative ethics commission whose members may not include sitting legislators or registered lobbyists;
- authorize the commission to conduct an independent review of complaints alleging unethical legislative behavior; and
- authorize the Legislature to provide for:
 - procedures and requirements for filing a complaint;
 - the qualifications, appointment, and terms of commission members; and
 - commission duties, powers, operations, and procedures?

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Constitutional Amendment D establishes a five-member legislative ethics commission with authority to conduct an independent review of complaints alleging unethical legislative behavior.

Current provisions of the Utah Constitution

The Utah Constitution currently authorizes the Utah House of Representatives to punish a member of the House, and the Utah Senate to punish a member of the Senate, for "disorderly conduct." Although "disorderly conduct" is not defined in the Utah Constitution, the Legislature has interpreted that term to refer to a violation of the Legislature's Code of Official Conduct or to a legislator's improper conduct while acting as a legislator that would reflect discredit upon the House or Senate. The Utah Constitution also authorizes the House and Senate, with a two-thirds vote, to expel a member of its respective house for cause. The Utah Constitution does not specify the process that the House or Senate must use to decide whether to punish or expel a member but leaves it to each house to define that process.

Effect of Constitutional Amendment D

Constitutional Amendment D establishes a legislative ethics commission to participate in the process of evaluating complaints alleging unethical legislative behavior. Under the Amendment, the legislative ethics commission has authority to conduct an independent review to determine whether a complaint merits further consideration by the house of the member against whom the complaint is made. The decision whether to punish or expel a member of the Utah House of Representatives would remain with the House, and the decision whether to punish or expel a member of the Utah Senate would remain with the Senate.

The Amendment requires the legislative ethics commission to have five members. It prohibits a sitting legislator or registered lobbyist from being a member of the commission.

The Amendment also authorizes the Legislature to provide in its internal rules for:

- 1) the procedures and requirements for filing a complaint alleging unethical legislative behavior;
- 2) the qualifications, appointment, and terms of commission members; and
- 3) the duties, powers, operations, and procedures of the commission.

Constitutional Amendment D does not affect the authority of the House or Senate to establish internal rules to govern other aspects of the process of determining whether to punish or expel a member.

Effective date

If approved by voters, Constitutional Amendment D takes effect January 1, 2011.

Fiscal impact

Costs to the state associated with Constitutional Amendment D will depend on the content of legislative rules allowed under the Amendment. Based on current legislative rules, costs could range from $700 per year to significantly higher, depending on the number of complaints filed and the nature of those complaints. Constitutional Amendment D will have no direct, measurable impact on state revenues or on local government costs or revenues.

ARGUMENT FOR

The Constitution of the State of Utah requires that, “Each house shall be the judge of the election and qualifications of its members, and may punish them for disorderly conduct.” This provision, which can also be found in our inspired U.S. Constitution, is critical to maintaining a healthy government and ensuring appropriate checks and balances between each branch of government.

Constitutional Amendment D preserves that power and creates a Legislative Ethics Commission with the authority to independently review alleged unethical behavior in the Legislative Branch of government. This provision is patterned after the Judicial Conduct Commission, which has been well-tested and effective in the Judicial Branch.

Unfortunately, trust in government throughout the world is low. We have been fortunate in Utah to have honest, ethical government that is responsive to citizens. The leaders of this State, of both parties, have helped create a foundation of good management and fiscal discipline. It is important that we maintain principled, ethical institutions so that our economy can be strong and so that Utah remains the best place in the nation to raise a family, to work and to play.

Creation of this Ethics Commission will strengthen our legislative branch and see that breaches of ethics are properly handled. It allows for independent reviews of ethics complaints, but also provides a process to ensure that complaints have merit and are not submitted only for partisan political purposes.

Constitutional Amendment D ensures that legislative ethics complaints will be considered by an independent panel of distinguished Utahns. It does not allow sitting legislators or lobbyists to participate in this process.

Most Utahns clearly want their legislators to work cooperatively with one another to accomplish the work of the state. Although there have been, and always will be, disagreements over important policy matters, we are in full accord, as Republicans and Democrats, that ethics is not an issue over which we should fight. We have worked cooperatively with legislators of both parties to develop and submit this Ethics Commission amendment. It passed both the Senate and House in the 2010 legislative session with near-unanimous support.

This constitutional amendment will forever enshrine an Ethics Commission in the Constitution, helping ensure honorable behavior and good government in our state.

PLEASE VOTE FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT D.

ARGUMENT AGAINST

Last session, I voted against the constitutional amendment regarding ethics reform and here are a couple of reasons why I believe the public should also vote AGAINST this ballot initiative.

1. First, the only reason this measure is on the ballot is because it was a political reaction to the Ethics Reform petition that was being circulated. This amendment was proposed to counter this initiative, so it would appear the legislature was addressing the voters' concerns, using "let's show them we're doing something" tactics.
2. Passing this initiative will not guarantee your elected official will truly represent you and be honest in their dealings with others and do what's best for the people.
3. Because a person's integrity is born from within, we as voters need to do a better job of knowing our candidates before we elect them, so we know we can trust them before they are sworn into an office of public trust.
4. Voting for this ballot initiative will not guarantee checks and balances, accountability, responsibility, or whether or not someone has integrity. Voting for this initiative will not guarantee that those we elect to office of public trust will be ethical and have moral integrity.

This proposal is not in the best interest of the voters of the State of Utah. As you cast your vote regarding this ballot initiative, please remember, ethics and integrity come from within. Use your integrity. Do the right thing and vote NO on this proposal.

Signed Rep. Neil Hansen

Only citizens who are serious about their responsibilities of discernment and election can ensure their legislature is moral. "Ethics" legislation, topped off by this proposed Independent Commission will not make angels of us all. This will do very little to stop the truly ambitious and evil among us.

Only your vote can do that.

Ever-tightening ethics regulations will set up a convoluted system where groups who fail at the ballot box can promote their political agenda under the guise of ethics complaints. Your elected representatives could have their reputations destroyed on technicalities that are not morally wrong.

Consider, for a moment, the many opportunities citizens have to screen and scrutinize public officials:

- The moment an individual registers as a candidate for political office, he or she enters a glass house for all to inspect;
- Public and media scrutiny during the campaign, driven by public interest;
- Elections;
- Performance in office; and
- Re-Elections.

The current process places you, the citizen, in full control of ethics violations. In fact, you ARE the ethics committee, because YOU decide whether a candidate is allowed to serve.

Do not use ethics legislation as a feel-good crutch when the real problem is that too many citizens fail to properly scrutinize candidates before they vote.

There are no short cuts to running a proper democratic republic.

Don't be fooled. Ethics cannot be legislated. Please vote no on Amendment D.

Chris Butters
Utah State Senator

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT FOR

Creation of this Ethics Commission will do nothing. The power of the ethics committee is now in the hands of the party leaders of the legislature on both sides. The way to get appointed to this committee is to show favoritism to those party leaders. There are no checks and balances in place. The only real way to have a good ethics committee is to allow all members of the legislature pick the members of the ethics committee by secrete vote, This would take away, fear or favoritism, from the party leaders and would cure the problem. This would ensure the necessary checks and balances in the ethics committee. There's too much power given to the party leaders and this is what needs to change.

Therefore you should vote NO on Constitutional amendment D.

Representative Neil Hansen
House District # 09

- - - - -

Changing the core structure of our government to add another layer of bureaucracy is wrong.

The legislature is supposed to handle her own problems and regulate her own affairs. This element was put into the constitution for a reason.

The voters ARE the Independent Ethics Committee. There should be no bureaucratic buffer zone between the People and their elected representatives.

We should be about the business of limiting layers of bureaucracy, not adding more.

We can dream bright ideas up all day, but we need to be very cautious about changing the fundamental founding document of our state.

Amendment D is wrong. Please vote against it.

D. Chris Buttars
Utah State Senator, District 10

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT AGAINST

Our colleagues are correct when they say rules cannot force anyone to act with integrity. That comes from inside. They are right when they say voters are the final 'ethics committee'. In a democratic republic there is no workable substitute for educated, engaged citizens.

However, we firmly believe citizens should have a reasonable expectation that

- 1) Legislators will act honorably while representing them in office,
- 2) Ethical breaches will be dealt with appropriately, and
- 3) Citizens will be fully informed of credible accusations of wrongdoing.

We have worked hard to form a new system that will do just that, and the Independent Ethics Commission plays an essential role. It is charged with investigating complaints in a manner that is fair to the innocent and uncompromising to the guilty. When wrongdoing is found the information will be made public and the issue will move to a very public hearing. This idea precedes the UEG initiative. It was extensively reworked in public meetings throughout the summer of 2009 and approved in 2010.

Utahns are ethical people, and the makeup of the legislature tends to reflect that. Last year the Center for Competitive Politics rated government corruption in Utah seventh lowest out of 50 states. However, no state is perfect and no human infallible. We believe the Independent Ethics Commission is essential as we move forward, and we believe it should be given a permanent place in government by including it in the Utah Constitution.

Please vote yes on Amendment D. Thank you.

C.

JUDGES

INFORMATION ABOUT JUDGES APPEARING ON YOUR BALLOT

Merit Selection of Judges

The office of judge is unique in our society. A judge is a public servant holding an office of high public trust and so should answer to the public. However, the obligation of a judge is to resolve disputes impartially and to base decisions solely upon the facts of the case and the law. A judge, therefore, should be insulated from public pressure.

Merit selection of judges was developed as an alternative to requiring judges to run in contested elections. The Judicial Article of the Utah Constitution, revised effective July 1, 1985, establishes merit selection as the exclusive method of choosing a state court judge. As stated in the Utah Constitution: "Selection of judges shall be based solely upon consideration of fitness for office without regard to any partisan political consideration."

There are four steps in the Utah merit selection plan: nomination, appointment, confirmation and retention election. The nomination of judges is by a committee of lawyers and non-lawyers selected by the Governor. The judicial nominating commission nominates between three and seven of the best qualified candidates from among all applicants. The Governor appoints one of the nominees, who then must be confirmed by a majority of the Utah State Senate.

Judicial Retention Elections

Under the Utah Constitution, judges must stand for retention election at the end of each term of office. The public has the opportunity to vote whether to retain the judge for another term. Before a judge stands for retention election, he or she is evaluated by the Judicial Council. The Judicial Council is established by the Utah Constitution as the policy making body for the judicial branch of government and is required by its own rules and by statute to evaluate the performance of all judges. As a result of the evaluation, the Judicial Council certifies whether the judge is qualified for retention election. The results of individual evaluations are published in the voter information pamphlet.

Performance Evaluation Program

The judicial performance evaluation program is required by statute and developed by rule of the Judicial Council. The purpose of the program is two-fold:

- ◇ To provide each judge with information for his or her self improvement; and
- ◇ To provide the public with information upon which to make knowledgeable decisions regarding retention election.

The evaluation of each judge's performance is conducted every two to four years depending on when the judge is standing for retention election. An independent surveyor conducts a poll of lawyers appearing before each judge and asks the lawyer to anonymously evaluate the judge based on several criteria. In addition, a similar survey of jurors is conducted for district court judges. Before the close of a judge's term of office, the Judicial Council reviews the results of the attorney and juror polls and other standards of performance and determines whether the judge is qualified for retention.

Criteria for Performance Evaluation

(A) Integrity:

- (1) avoidance of impropriety and appearance of impropriety;
- (2) freedom from personal bias;
- (3) ability to decide issues based on the law and the facts without regard to the identity of the parties or counsel, the popularity of the decision, and without concern for criticism;
- (4) impartiality of actions;
- (5) compliance with the Code of Judicial Conduct.

(B) Knowledge and understanding of the law:

- (1) the issuance of legally sound decisions;
- (2) understanding of the substantive, procedural, and evidentiary law of the state;
- (3) attentiveness to the factual and legal issues before the court;
- (4) the proper application of judicial precedents and other appropriate sources of authority.

(C) Ability to communicate:

(1) clarity of bench rulings and other oral communications;

(2) quality of written opinions with specific focus on clarity and logic, and the ability to explain clearly the facts of a case and the legal precedents at issue;

(3) sensitivity to impact of demeanor and other nonverbal communications.

(D) Preparation, attentiveness, dignity and control over proceedings:

(1) courtesy to all parties and participants; and

(2) willingness to permit every person legally interested in a proceeding to be heard, unless precluded by law.

(E) Skills as a manager:

(1) devoting appropriate time to all pending matters;

(2) discharging administrative responsibilities diligently;

(3) where responsibility exists for a calendar, knowledge of the number, age, and status of pending cases.

(F) Punctuality:

(1) the prompt disposition of pending matters;

(2) meeting commitments on time and according to rules of the court; and

(3) compliance with the case processing time standard established by the Council.

(G) Service to the profession and the public:

(1) attendance at and participation in judicial and continuing legal education programs;

(2) consistent with the Code of Judicial Conduct, participation in organizations devoted to improving the justice system;

(3) consistent with the highest principles of the law, ensuring that the court is serving the public and the justice system to the best of its ability and in such a manner as to instill confidence in the court system; and

(4) service within the organizations of the judicial branch of government and in leadership positions within the judicial branch of government, such as presiding judge, Judicial Council, Boards of Judges, and standing and ad hoc committees.

(H) Effectiveness in working with other judges, commissioners and court personnel:

(1) when part of a multi-judge panel, exchanging ideas and opinions with other judges during the decision-making process;

(2) critiquing the work of colleagues;

(3) facilitating the administrative responsibilities of other judges and commissioners; and

(4) effectively working with court staff.

Minimum Standards for Performance

The Judicial Council has established the following minimum standards for judicial performance. Some standards apply to all judges and some standards apply to judges of a specific court.

◇ A minimum score of 70% on at least 75% of the questions on the attorney survey.

◇ A minimum score of 70% on at least 75% of the questions on the juror survey.

◇ For justices of the Supreme Court, circulating no more than six principal opinions more than 6 months after submission.

◇ For judges of the Court of Appeals, circulating no more than six principal opinions more than 6 months after submission and achieving a final average time to circulation of a principal opinion of not more than 120 days after submission.

◇ For judges of the trial courts, no cases under advisement for more than 6 months and not more than an average of three cases per calendar year under advisement more than two months with no more than half of the maximum exceptional cases in any one calendar year.

◇ At least 30 hours of judicial education per year.

◇ Substantial compliance with the Code of Judicial Conduct.

◇ Physical and mental fitness for office.

If the Council finds the judge met the performance standards, it is presumed the Council will certify the judge for election. If the Council finds the judge did not meet the performance standards, it is presumed the Council will not certify the judge for election. A presumption against certification may be overcome by a showing of good cause to the contrary. A presumption in favor of certification may be overcome by:

(a) reliable information showing non-compliance with a performance standard; or

(b) formal or informal sanctions by the Supreme Court of sufficient gravity or number or both to demonstrate lack of substantial compliance with the Code of Judicial Conduct.

Attorney Survey Questions

A random sample of attorneys appearing before each judge was asked to rate the judge as “excellent,” “more than adequate,” “adequate,” “less than adequate,” and “inadequate” on the following questions. A favorable response is “excellent,” “more than adequate,” or “adequate.” To be certified the judge must receive a 70% favorable response rate to at least 75% of the following questions and an overall favorable response rate of at least 70%.
